LEEK SEEDS

1. Autumn Giant 3 'Snowflake'

A heavy yielder, free from basal bulbing. Plants are large and semi-erect growing. Leaves are large in size and medium-dark to blue-green in colour. Stem is thick and long (25-30 cm). Maturity is early. Growing season: late summer till end of autumn. Medium frost-resistance. Strong and very productive variety

2. De Carentan 2

A medium late, autumn to winter variety with medium dark green foliage. Strong growing plant with semi-erect to horizontal growth. Stem is rather short (13-17 cm) with medium thickness and some bulbous base. Old standard variety.

3. Musselburgh (=American Flag)

Leaves are large and medium green, stem is medium long, thick and straight. Strong and productive variety. Medium frost tolerance.

4. Giant Winter

A medium late variety which is winterhardy. Foliage is blue-green and the stem length is medium. Good frost tolerance.

5. Bluegreen Winter 'Baikal'

A well selected variety for autumn, winter and late winter cultivation. The tall, erect plants have blueish-green leaves, which are long. The \pm 20 cm long shafts have a remarkable uniformity and show almost no basal bulbing. Maturity is medium late. A productive variety, which produces good quality leeks. Very strong tolerance to frost and fungal diseases.
